Activities for "Sport for all – senior 55+" – WSG 2027 Aalborg

Nordic Fitness – DAI

Nordic Fitness focuses on using the outdoors as a gym. We utilize elements encountered along the way, supplemented by Nordic Walking and strength training using punctured bicycle inner tubes. The exercises are physically challenging, dynamic, and social. We focus on making the workout both fun and demanding for everybody. The exercises are easy to adapt to each individual's physical ability, so everyone can participate.

Walking football - introduction

Soccer as you know it – but the rules are adapted so everybody can participate. You are not allowed to run under any circumstances and running will earn you a penalty. It's a very funny game, and it will for certain make all participants both breath or laugh. We will learn the game and play a small tournament for fun.

Krolf / Danish instructor

The name Krolf is a combination of the Danish words 'kroket' (croquet) and 'golf'. We often claim that Krolf is half croquet – half golf and all fun. You use the equipment from croquet - club and ball - and play a golf-like game on a lawn with holes. It is a quite simple game, actually. The rules are simple and you can play without any further ado. No need for speed, no need for strength, no need for years of training, but training does improve your game. The course usually has 12 holes with distances from 5 to approx. 30 m with uneven ground as obstacles. Krolf is a very social game with a lot of fun, and it's especially suitable for the elderly people

Introduction-tournament with Danish Krolfers

We are organizing a krolf tournament, similar to how they are held in Denmark. We will invite Danish players from local clubs, who can assist those less familiar with the game. Additionally, the event will demonstrate how krolf is played in a real tournament setting where everyone can participate.

Memory Game/ ASKÖ

Memory games for seniors strengthen concentration and retention in a playful way. From brain teasers to puzzles combined with physical movement, they promote mental and physical fitness as well as long-term memory. Thinking together activates cherished memories, creates small sense of achievements, and brings joy to everyday life. Without any pressure to perform, these varied exercises keep the mind agile and connect generations in a respectful and appreciative environment.

Catch´n & Serve (volleyball adopted to seniors) / Elisabeth Speiser-Havel, Austria

Catch´n serve is a team ball game resembling volleyball. It is played by two teams of 6 players in a volleyball court with a volleyball net. The object of the game is to pass the ball over the net to ground it on the opponent's court, and to prevent the same effort by the opponent. We will learn the game step by step and in the end we will play matches against each other. It is fun and everybody can participate. The difference from volleyball is that it is allowed to grab the ball and then throw it either to your teammates or over the net

Martial Arts for seniors

In this session we will use elements of chi-gong and martial arts to enhance balance and breathing. Balance and breathing are the starting point for standing strong and being assertive.

We will do some movement exercises, which are aimed to increase both balance and mobility. Exercises on breathing will give insights in your energy: how to activate and relax yourself. And we will show some self-defense skills which can be easily applied to feel strong and safe.

All exercises can be done standing and sitting on a chair.

Danish Folkdance / Danish instructor

Traditional Danish folk dance is an important part of Denmark's cultural heritage. The dances date primarily from the 18th and 19th centuries. They are often performed in pairs or in large circles. The music is typically played on the violin, accordion, or other folk instruments. Many dances feature set steps and patterns that are learned through practice. Dancers sometimes wear traditional folk costumes for special performances. Folk dancing fosters a sense of community and cooperation among participants and it is performed at gatherings, festivals, and cultural events.

Today, many folk dance associations keep the tradition alive and traditional Danish folk dance remains an important part of Danish culture and history.
